Welcome to Hawke's Bay

'Te Matau a Māui'

From Māhia in the north to Porangahau in the south, Hawke's Bay is a region of diverse and magnificent landscapes.

Our wide-open skies beckon travellers to explore.

From mountains and hill country, inland plains and miles of coastline to sparkling beaches and undulating cycleways, day walks and a Great Walk, elegant architecture, rich Māori cultural experiences, world-leading golf courses and unique tour operators, Hawke's Bay is a destination to be savoured.

As is the food and wine.

Blessed with fertile soils and a warm temperate climate, Hawke's Bay boasts thousands of acres of farms, orchards and vineyards.

Embracing this land of plenty, the region has emerged as one of the country's most desirable culinary destinations, headed by an enviable stable of award-winning winemakers, chefs and purveyors.

The forces of nature that gifted Hawke's Bay its most notable landmarks, including Lake Waikaremoana, Te Mata Peak, and Cape Kidnappers, have also defined the region we know today.

From the Hawke's Bay Earthquake of 1931, which dramatically changed the cityscapes of Napier and Hastings and gifted the region its now-iconic Art Deco architecture, to the bridled rivers that snake across the plains, leaving sought-after wine-growing terrôir in its path; this is a country calling for you to visit.

This is New Zealand's Food and Wine Country.

Napier City

As one of the world's most complete collections of Art Deco-styled buildings, Napier is an iconic visitor destination and the perfect location from which to start your Hawke's Bay holiday.

Napier CBD

Home to many wineries, restaurants and eateries, Napier also offers boutique shopping, chic wine and cocktail bars, and cosy craft beer speakeasys. Marine Parade's shorefront is scenic and popular. Packed with family-friendly activities, it is also home to the Napier Viewing Platform, beautiful walkways, Pania of the Reef, the city's iconic Norfolk Pines, Deco Soundshell and Tom Parker Fountain.

Ahuriri & Westshore

Venture five minutes by car, or an easy fifteen on the cycle trail, to the historic fishing village of Ahuriri. This seaside settlement has a growing number of cafés, bars, restaurants, galleries and boutique stores of its own. For a winery experience with a difference, visit The Urban Winery, housed in the iconic National Tobacco Building. Five minutes further along the coast is Westshore. A seaside escape, and the perfect spot for fish and chips and watching the sunset.

Taradale

Alternatively, head inland to Taradale. A self-contained, residential suburb, Taradale is home to Mission Estate and Church Road Winery, two of New Zealand's oldest wine producers.

* Panekire Bluff, Lake Waikaremoana, Wairoa

Wairoa & Northern Hawke's Bay

Wairoa (Māori for long water) is the largest town in northern Hawke's Bay, and the gateway for memorable adventures across its spectacular and, often untouched, landscapes.

The township of Wairoa has a rich heritage; much of which can be found along the five-kilometre river walkway, passing sites of historical significance that share the stories of Māori and European settlement. The museum is definitely worth a visit and children will enjoy the riverside playground and Mōrere Hot Springs, north of Wairoa on SH2. Mōrere Hot Springs is a collection of mineral hot pools set within the last remaining tracts of native rainforest on the East Coast.

Māhia Peninsula is a long-time summer holiday retreat and a magnet for fishers, divers and surfers. With white sand beaches, it is home to some of New Zealand's most reliable surfing destinations, while fishermen love the ability to launch boats on either side of the peninsula, providing access to outstanding fishing and diving in almost any weather.

Māhia is also home to Rocket Lab Launch Complex 1, the first orbital launch site in New Zealand.

Inland from Wairoa is Te Urewera, home to the stunning Lake Waikaremoana. Popular with walkers, kayakers, hunters, campers and fly-fishing enthusiasts, the lakefront Holiday Park has stunning views of the pristine lake. The 46km Lake Waikaremoana Track is a three-to-four-day hike along the western side that takes in ancient bush, remote beaches, abundant native birdlife, and magnificent vistas.

Central Hawke's Bay

Central Hawke's Bay runs from Pukehou and Ōtāne in the north to Takapau in the south.

This often-undiscovered gem is home to majestic homesteads and gardens, charming historic villages, boutique shopping, cafés, wineries and stunning natural landscapes.

Waipukurau is the hub of Central Hawke's Bay, and a perfect base with accommodation, cafés and main street shopping. The Tukituki Trails are a popular drawcard with limestone tracks for cycling and walking, as well as excellent mountain biking trails and an impressive 100m-long swing bridge crossing the Tukituki River.

Waipawa is a short drive south of Waipukurau and has boutique shops, antiques and collectibles, an art gallery and cafés. The Central Hawke's Bay Settlers' Museum offers a nostalgic glimpse into the area's past and hosts regular exhibitions.

The small historic village of Ongaonga on State Highway 50 is like stepping back in time with a well-preserved collection of original historic buildings, museum and historic Coles Brothers building to explore.

The Ruahine Ranges border the region on the west and are home to excellent walking and tramping tracks, including the must-do walk to Sunrise Hut. To the east lie six stunning beaches, each offering a different experience from swimming, diving, fishing or a relaxing coastal stay. Te Angiangi Marine Reserve, which runs from Blackhead Beach to Aramoana, is a fantastic protected coastal area to explore rock pools, swim, dive, fish and snorkel along the coast.

Food & Wine

Hawke's Bay is New Zealand's Food and Wine Country.

With a mild Mediterranean climate, varied terroir and producers aplenty, it is no surprise that award-winning wineries, restaurants, cafés, breweries and distilleries are spread throughout all corners of the region.

At the heart of the region's reputation are exceptional producers and purveyors, winemakers and chefs who champion provenance and quality, seeking the unparalleled product from their own backyard.

With a dedicated local and international following, Hawke's Bay is also New Zealand's oldest and second largest wine growing region. While known for its full-bodied, Bordeaux-style reds, Hawke's Bay's terroir is also ideal for producing world-class Chardonnays. Visitors explore the vineyards by bike, car or with one of the great local guides, who offer wine tours with a side of local knowledge.

The food and beverage industries come together twice a year to celebrate at F.A.W.C! (Food and Wine Classic). Hawke's Bay's own culinary festival is held twice a year – across four weekends in June, and during ten days in November – and is a showcase of all that's good about Hawke's Bay's bountiful produce.

Napier's CBD, Ahuriri and West Quay, along with Hastings and Havelock North all offer a range of food and dining options for all budgets, with new breweries, cider taprooms, urban and rural cellar doors, restaurants and cafés popping up all the time.

For exceptional dining, there are a host of restaurants across the region, with Bistronomy, Craggy Range, Elephant Hill, Pacifica and Mister D among recent award recipients at the Cuisine Good Food Awards 2019.

* Mātai Whetū at Hakikino, Waimarama

Hawke's Bay is known to Māori as Te Matau-a-Māui / The Hook of Māui, in reference to the early navigator Māui, who bestowed the first placenames to the region over 1000 years ago. Following Māui was successive migration from Polynesia to Aotearoa and intermarriage with the people of the land.

Today the iwi tribes that inhabit Te Matau-a-Māui are Ngāti Rongomaiwahine of Māhia and Ngāti Kahungunu united through the marriage of the eponymous ancestors Kahungunu and Rongomaiwahine in the late 1400s. Their descendants now number over 60,000 and are a united confederation of hapū sub-tribes that extend from Wairoa to the Wairarapa.

By the 1830s Europeans were emigrating to Aotearoa in large numbers, and on arriving to the Māhia Peninsula found a people in exile, escaping inter-tribal warfare exacerbated with the introduction of the musket. With the introduction of Christianity and European-style security, chiefs began the process of establishing peace and repatriation of their lands across Te Matau-a-Māui.

Returning to their ancestral lands, certain chiefs signed the Treaty of Waitangi and adopted European practices, dress and language. Chiefs were quick to commence farming, food production and building of European style villages.

Mythical legends play an important role in the transmission of oral histories in Māori culture. One of the most famous is the story of the iconic 'sleeping giant', known as Te Mata, who died in the pursuit of love when trying to bite his way through the hills separating tribes in the coast and the plains. The outline of his prostrate body forms the skyline when looking towards Te Mata Peak from the Heretaunga plains.

Art, Design & Architecture

* Vintage car outside the National Tobacco Building

With creative culture fed by good food and great wine, Hawke's Bay is home to many of New Zealand's best-known artists, photographers, furniture and fashion designers, musicians, and filmmakers.

From art installations in public spaces around Napier, Hastings, and Havelock North, and a growing number of small galleries representing local and national artists, there is always something to discover.

The Hastings City Art Gallery holds regular exhibitions of national and international contemporary art and design, while the MTG Hawke's Bay (Museum, Theatre, Gallery) in Napier is home to the region's permanent collection of treasures.

Napier City is an outdoor gallery in its own right. Following the devastating 7.8 magnitude earthquake in 1931, the citizens were tasked with the reconstruction of their city. The recovery resulted in the highest concentration of Art Deco buildings on Earth, earning Napier the title of Art Deco Capital of the World. The city has 140 original Art Deco buildings, while Hastings has a similar number in the Art Deco, Spanish Mission and Stripped Classical styles.

The Art Deco Trust on Tennyson Street has an extensive range of information relating to the cities' architectural heritage, and is the starting point for all their walks and tours.
